Teen Center Opens Friday With Open House

Andover's new Teen-Center - freshly scrubbed, painted and polished - will open tomorrow night with an open house for all interested parents. Then, Saturday evening, the town's young people will hold their first dance in the Center, located in the Grange building on Shawshheen rd. The open house is scheduled from 7-10, and will feature guided tours of the building, music and refreshments.

The Saturday dance will run from 8-11, with dancing to music provided by the Tritons of Concord. Phil Christy, whose reputation as a disc jockey is well known in town, will also be on hand both nights, lending his talents to the festivities. Youth Council President Bill Dalton has asked that the opening dance be restricted to members - and has also indicated that membership cards may be obtained at the Center Saturday night. The Center already has some 150 members among the teen-set.

Many Opposed To Zoning For Industry And Shopping Center

The Planning Board may reach a decision next week on its final recommendation to town meeting on industrial, business and apartment zoning.

The last of two hearings was held Monday night, when a proposed shopping center district in Shawshheen and an apartment area on North Main st. were discussed.

Last week, a public hearing was held on the extension of industrial zoning, changes in the rules and regulations in industrial areas, an apartment district off Morton st. and a business area at Route 133 and Route 93.

Under the statutes, the Planning

Board holds hearings before preparing reports to town meeting, which must be read to the meeting when the specific articles come up for discussion.

The industrial hearing was stormiest, with those in attendance generally displaying their anger against zoning changes in their neighborhoods.

Although in large part expected, the opposition took an unusual turn at that hearing, when a municipal committee went on record as asking to have the industrial zoning articles withdrawn from consideration.

Robert Zollner, chairman of the

By-Laws Revision Committee, surprised the Planning Board with the suggestion, which members of the latter board said had not previously been presented by Mr. Zollner.

The By-Law Revision group has been re-writing the town's by-laws, making them simpler to understand and removing any areas of overlapping or ambiguity. Mr. Zollner said some of the same general material as is contained in the articles has already been submitted to the Planning Board consultant by his group. Thus, he wished to have the articles with-

Open House At Memorial Library

All friends of the Memorial Hall Library are urged to save Sunday afternoon, March 5, for the annual Open House and the dedication of the new wing.

Simple ceremonies have been planned, light refreshments will be served, and there will be time for inspection of the extended children's room.

New books are being prepared for the displays in both adult's and children's departments, which may be seen during the week of March 5. Special programs have been planned for boys and girls all during the week, and the rest of the month is being kept open for the casual visitor who is interested in the changes which have been made in the area where services to children are now housed.

Librarians from all parts of the state are expected to take this

5 Small Children Saved From Fire

Fiercely blazing oil from a space heater badly damaged a Chapman ave. home Tuesday morning, but a mother and her five children escaped serious injury.

Mrs. Harold Falle, 11 Chapman ave., notified firefighters at 8:08 a.m., after seeing that the youngsters were safely out of her second floor home. Mrs. Falle was given emergency treatment at the Lawrence General Hospital for burns of the face and hands, suffered when she dashed through the flames to help seven-year-old Diana, who was in another room. Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton said

Jr. Red Cross Conducted Party

High School members of the Junior Red Cross planned and conducted a Valentine's Day party at the Tewksbury State Hospital.

Malcolm Sandberg acted as master of ceremonies for an instrumental and bongo group, including Frank Higgins, John Bilello, Joseph Calsina, John Brunell, and singers Norma Arsenault and Pamela Prendergast. Judith Parshley and Elinor Santucci gave an exhibition of baton twirling. The entire group circulated through the women's ward leading a community sing, in which the patients enthusiastically participated.

The adults who accompanied the group, Mrs. Allen Falton, Mrs. Irving Piper, Mrs. Leon Field and Mrs. Harrison Brown, commented on the ability of the performers to communicate their pleasure and youthful exuberance to their audience.

The elementary grades made Valentine candy-cups, no two of which were alike, for the hospitalized veterans at Bedford.

Troop 77 Held Successful Dinner

As part of Boy Scout week, Troop 77 held a pot luck dinner for all scouts of Troop 77 and their parents.

A total of 114 attended. The success of the supper was due to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young's efforts, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGrath.

The extensive ceremonies included skits and demonstrations by the scouts. Fred Tarbox accepted the scout charter from Mark Iworsley, neighborhood commissioner who lauded the troop on its many recent successful activities. George Rennie, Peter Albani, Jeff Brimblon, Kenneth Chlebow-ski and Keith Bronson were installed as tenderfoot scouts. Tom Sirois, Richard Gilbraith and Tucker Lake earned their promotion to second class scouts and Jerry Dickson received merit badges - a life saving and a citizenship in the nation. Dave Shearston, who had been scoutmaster for three years, was honored with a special scouting award.

The meeting was organized by Dave Getlin, assistant scoutmaster and Harold E. McGrath, chairman of the troop committee. Scoutmaster Bob Hooten was welcomed back after a prolonged trip to Norway.

During the impressive Sunday morning services on Scout Sunday, at West Parish Church, Bryan McGrath was awarded the highest religious award in scouting, the God and Country award.

The people of Andover voted to protect the dental health of their children in 1956. Reactionary groups are trying to block our existing practical public health program. It would be tragic to forfeit the benefits which have been gained and which will become more substantial as time passes.

Major scientific and medical organizations in the United States, including the American Medical Association, the United States Public Health Service, American Dental Association, American Academy of Pediatrics, American Society of Dentistry for Children, heartily endorse fluoridation.

We, the undersigned, who are directly concerned with your health and well-being, urge you to vote in favor of continuing the Board of Health's current program of fluoridation.

Because of the limitations of space these ceremonies cannot be opened to the public.

Protestantism To Be Discussed

The Rev. Forrest Knapp, General Secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, returns to the Free Church Lenten Institute Tuesday evening, Feb. 28.

He will continue his consideration of the movement in Protestantism toward unity. Probing into the particular history of the unity movement. Those who attended the first lecture, and found the Rev. Mr. Knapp's exposition so interesting, look forward to hearing him speak at this third meeting of the Lenten Institute.

In his first lecture, Mr. Knapp surveyed the development of the early church, noting and elaborating on the divisive forces which early manifested themselves. From that point he moved to a consideration of the beginnings of Protestantism, starting with the Reformation and continuing until the present. Here also, as in the primitive church, divisive forces went to work early, resulting in the bewildering multiplicity of sects characteristic of Protestantism. These forces have continued to be a strong cross current in the tide of Protestantism.

At the second meeting pastors

from the Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, and Congregational churches gave brief histories of their denominations. The Feb. 28 meeting will cover some of the integrating pressures which have been working and which have resulted in the soon-to-be-completed merger of the Evangelical and Reformed and the Congregational denominations. Following the talk there will be questions from the floor.

The public is invited to meet with the Free Christian Church in continuing this series, which has proved to be so enlightening. The Margaret Slattery class of the Free Church will serve refreshments. Tickets will be available at the door. The meeting begins at 7:30.

Space for a workroom and office and a librarian's office was allowed by the western extension of the former building. This will bring most operations into one area, instead of the three formerly in use for the handling of materials.

The original office has been made into an audio-visual room, where the recordings and audio-visual materials will now be housed.

Book lovers will want to save Sunday, March 5, for a very special visit to their library. All are cordially invited.

Directing firefighting operations were Deputy John T. Cole and Lt. William Downs.

In addition to Diana, the other children rescued were Doreen, five, Harold Jr., three, Cheryl, one and Patricia, three months.

Dear friends,

We have been asked about our one-cost system. It simply means that the selection of the casket, at whatever price, includes all the essential services connected with the funeral - care and preparation of the body, use of the Funeral Home, direction of the funeral, provision of cars, and many other facilities.

You are welcome to call at any time to discuss these matters.

Girl Scouts

Troop 95

The Brownies of Troop 95 met at the South School Monday. A fourth patrol was formed, with Claire Dimlich as leader and Mary Norris as assistant. Following a short business meeting the girls enjoyed a Valentine party. "Pin the Arrow on the Heart", a game, was won by Debbie Barenboim. Refreshments were served by the Chickadee Patrol.

Troop 75

The Brownies of Troop 75 visited a Dairy Farm. The girls thoroughly enjoyed their tour of the farm, and saw many things of interest to them. This tour took place of their regular meeting.

Troop 63

The Brownies of Troop 63 had a big day. It was their investiture. First they presented the Brownie Story play. This was followed by the investiture ceremonies. After the ceremonies refreshments were served to the girls and their mothers who were guests. The girls invested were Ann Marie Bailey, Wanda Batchelder, Patricia Cannon, Barbara Connolly, Carolyn Davis, Diane Falle, Judith Holland, Cynthia Johnson, Deborah Knowles, Joan Liversidge, Marylou Lussier, Ann Martellini, Catherine McKeon, Pamela Normandy, Jacqueline O'Brien, Caitlin Owen, Linda Pasho, Beverly Roberts, Susan Whitworth and Jennifer Zollner.

Troop 118

The scouts of Troop 118 had their regular meeting. Patrols 1, 2 and 3 selected a story to dramatize for their next meeting. This is to pass their dramatics requirement for their second class rank. Patrol 4 presented "Cinderella" as a play. They had rehearsed it, and wore costumes. Patrol 5 presented "Sleeping Beauty", a play which they had rehearsed and wore costumes. These two patrols are working on their dramatics badge.

Troop 68

The Brownies of troop 68 had another field trip. They toured a cookie factory in Lowell. They found the trip very interesting and educational. They especially enjoyed the free samples of cookies.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

The Bombshell

The By-Law Revision Committee displayed poor judgment last week, when it went on record in favor of withdrawing industrial zoning from the warrant.

The Committee said, through its chairman, that the articles should be further studied by the Revision Committee, and that the Committee itself has proposed similar by-laws which are now being studied by the Planning Board's consultant.

Somehow we can't believe that the use of shock tactics at a hearing, by one town board against another, is the proper way to do business.

The Planning Board had no inkling that such a recommendation would be made — thus it exploded like a bombshell in the hearing. And certainly this will provide additional ammunition for those opposed to the zoning — and probably will convince some persons that zoning should be put off, who otherwise might have supported it.

It seems to us that any town committee, if it has a legitimate suggestion, should make known its opinion to the committee sponsoring the zoning before taking any precipitate action.

The way this suggestion was made, with complete surprise, indicates that one committee wanted to win a minor point so badly that it was willing to risk helping defeat the entire industrial zoning to accomplish its purpose.

We can't see how this sort of action will do anything but harm to the town.

Too Much Abuse

From time to time this newspaper has been critical of the Planning Board's decisions on zoning. But at this point in the town's progress, we want to stand and be counted among those defending the Board against the intemperate remarks and the personal attacks delivered at the industrial zoning hearing.

For it should be recognized that the members of the Planning Board — whether we happen to agree with them or not — are doing what they consider best. None of them are deliberately trying to hurt any specific resident, or group of residents; no one on the Board is deliberately proposing anything to harm the town.

Although zoning becomes a personal thing, when it involves one's own neighborhood, residents of the affected areas should remember that the Planning Board spends many dreary hours at its job, which essentially is making the sub-division control laws work here in Andover. And they spend still more hours in the planning stages, attempting to come up with what they consider to be the best zoning for the community as a whole.

Personal attacks are unnecessary; are even downright rude. We don't believe the Board members deserve them, under any conditions.

Worth Your Support

A few weeks ago we pointed out, with considerable alarm, that a billboard may be erected along Route 93, perhaps despite the objections of the Selectmen.

It's good to note that a bill has been filed in the Legislature making local permission mandatory.

The bill would require approval from a local Board of Selectmen before any sign or billboard could be erected, regardless of other provisions of the law concerning state regulations of signs along state highways.

This bill deserves support from all those who do not wish to see the highways become cluttered with advertising messages of every description. We suggest you write to the legislators who serve Andover, suggesting they support this legislation.

Down the Years with The Townsman

H. F. Chase and family are moving to their new house on Summer st.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Flint left town this week for a stay at Southern Pines, N. C.

William Foster of Wilmington, Del., is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster.

Any person desiring a copy of the draft of the by-laws of the town, as they have been revised by the special committee appointed for that purpose, can obtain it at the Selectmen's office.

Dr. J. J. Daly is a candidate for re-election to the Board of Health; John H. Playdon seeks re-election as tree warden; and the following are seeking office: Harry Ramsdell, moderator; George A. The race for Selectman is attracting the most attention, as election draws near. The contest between Dr. J. J. Daly, the chairman, and Roy Hardy is rated as a toss-up. There is also an interesting contest developing between George Winslow, who seeks re-election as town clerk, and Arthur Cole.

There are 5,575 registered voters eligible to vote at the town election. The number is 60 more than a year ago.

Two prizes will be awarded for the best letters from Andover residents on the improvement of the town's motor vehicle safety record. The Highway Safety Committee is offering the money prizes in an effort to get more attention paid to the safety problems faced in the town.

About 450 persons now are members of the Taxpayers Association.

Thirty names are listed on the honor roll at Punchard High School, with five freshmen being the only ones listed as receiving high honors.

The Finance Committee sees an increase in the tax rate of $7, if only those articles are adopted which have the approval of the Committee. Budgets run to $1,128,944, while special articles have been approved in the amount of $35,372 — about half of those appearing in the warrant.

The heavy downpour that started Saturday and continued all day Sunday measured 1.66 inches. Many cellars were flooded, and town crews were kept busy helping those in distress.

The Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co. has obtained the Balmoral Spa building in the Village.

Edward B. Chapin Jr. has been named headmaster of the Park School in Buffalo, N. Y.

Candidates Discussed Issues Before Voters

Industrial development is favored by all three candidates for Selectman, according to their statements at the third candidates' meeting held Feb. 16 at the West School.

The degree of desired expansion in this direction seemed to vary, however.

In the order in which they spoke, Selectman Philip K. Allen decidedly favors industrial growth, but is opposed to increasing the number of acres now available for industry. He spoke vehemently in favor of the town making the areas attractive to industry, and soliciting the business to locate in them.

Selectman James D. Wilson also favored industrial development, citing the small amount of tax revenue now available from industry as opposed to the large share of the tax burden paid by residential property owners. He quoted the town's industrial development code, as outlined months ago by the Industrial and Development Commission and approved by most town boards and many associations and groups in the community.

Former Selectman Sidney P. White, while stating that he favors industry, urged extreme caution in this field. He noted that 1,300 acres in West Andover are now zoned for industry and discussed the problems that might result if very careful control is not exercised in developing this amount of land. He presented a map he had drawn, showing the proposed industrial zones, and referred heatedly to the possible traffic problems on country streets in the area.

In the contest for School Committee, the candidates were asked to discuss West Andover growth and building requirements in that section.

Board Secretary William A. Doherty described the rate of growth in the school system as being approximately 200 each year, and reminded the voters that new schools are usually needed prior to official requests being made for them. He feels that the School Committee should present the needs to the town meeting whenever necessary, and let the townspeople decide whether they want to build another new school, as opposed to the practice of waiting until the time is considered to be "right" to make the request.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers, chairman of the Committee, told the gathering that population trends had been studied since he became a member of the Committee, and that the Planning Board had been consulted. He said two additional sites are being sought in West Andover for future schools, and that money for these acquisitions is contained in a special article in the warrant. Dr. Meyers also noted that a permanent school building committee would be desirable, so that the building needs can be met speedily.

James J. O'Reilly, reiterating his belief that more education can be obtained for the tax dollars spent, suggested that a business-like approach to estimating the future needs should be adopted. He also urged that one-story structures be designed so that additional space can be acquired by building a second story on the school. He believes a more practical school can be designed for less money.

Most of the questions at the meeting were directed towards zoning for industrial purposes, with many questions being directed to Mr. White about the map he had personally prepared showing zoning proposals.

He denied, in response to one query, "That I will be a dictator" if elected, and said he would give "moral support" to the town manager.

Frank Michel asked Mr. White to answer yes or no to the question: "Are you in favor of the town manager?" The response was a question from Mr. White: "Are you in favor of sin?" He then went on to say that yes or no questions are unfair, and that there are many factors involved in such considerations.

Mr. White commented "Let him prove he can save money" and noted that he doesn't wish to see expenses and taxes keep rising.

He noted that the contract for care of the town dump was about $4,000 when he served on the Board, and that the cost is now $7,800, plus the use of town equipment and town employees. Selectmen Allen and Wilson pointed out that the dump is in better condition than ever before, and that the man

All parents are reminded that the Children's room will be closed all during the week of Feb. 27. Books may be left in the book box or in the door slot, or at the main library desk, but no books will be issued.

During the week the young people's books will be moved from their temporary quarters in the hall down to the new wing, to be ready for the dedication March 5. Many young library friends have registered their interest in helping to carry the books from the upper floor and will be organized into a type of "bucket brigade" to work during the week.

The Great Books Discussion group will hold its usual discussion Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, at 7:45 o'clock. New members are invited to join at anytime. The reading is Burke's "Revolution on the Revolution in France".

Cardinals Cancelled

There will be no meeting of this group of Littlest Listeners during the week of Feb. 27, as the process of moving the children's books from the temporary quarters to the new wing will be in process. These children of the three, four and five year old group will have their next meeting Wednesday, March 15.

Ballardvale little people will have their usual meeting Thursday, March 2. They have their program every other Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the branch library. Any child who has his third birthday during the school year is invited to join when he becomes three.

under contract with the town asked to be released because he broke down his equipment trying to take care of the municipal facility.

Questions were few and far between for the School Committee candidates. A discussion, without conclusion, followed a question about using the same set of architectural plans for several schools, cutting costs on architectural fees. It was agreed that this question regularly comes up to building committees, but that there never seems to be a way to work it out with the architects involved. Mr. Doherty noted that there is a new building committee, and usually a new architect, for each school.

Asked why he wants to serve, Mr. O'Reilly said he hopes to bring businesslike methods to the office, and stated that he fears the excellent school system that attracted him to the community in 1949 is not keeping up its formerly good pattern. He claimed there are no applications in the files from teachers wishing to teach here.

Dr. Meyers told the gathering that there are many applications, and that trouble is only experienced in some specialized fields such as in physics. Membership in the Harvard Internship program helps in these areas, he told the group.

The fourth and final candidates' meeting will be held March 1, at Central School Auditorium, starting at 8 p.m.

Heart Fund Drive Sunday

The Heart Fund drive will be held here Sunday, starting at noon.

Mrs. U. Sylvester Berg, chairman, has enlisted the help of 200 solicitors, who will canvass the community. Returns will be made Sunday afternoon at the Bay State Merchants National Bank.

Math Students Are Competing In Meets

This year the Mathematics department and students of mathematics of Andover High School have been active in the Massachusetts Math League.

This is a group composed of various schools which meet monthly to compete in different mathematical fields. Each team is made up of 10 members to the maximum. Each student is limited to three of the five or six rounds, lasting 10 minutes each. The contest consists of three problems ranging from easy, counting, medium, at three points, and hard, counting five points. Each competing student may reach a maximum total of 30 points.

A committee of teachers corrects the papers, and the scores are announced. Trophies will be given at the end of the year to the highest scoring teams and also to the highest scoring team member in each grade level.

Thursday, Feb. 9, the math meet will be held at the Andover High School after a welcome by Linda March, the principal, to participating schools. These schools are Andover, Andover North, Andover, Concord, Hamilton, Concord-Cole, Masconomet Regional, Rockport, and Lincoln-Sudbury.

Categories were Arithmetic, Algebra 1 factoring, Algebra 1 problems, Algebra 2, Plane Geometry, and Trigonometry. Mrs. Hardy, aided by Mr. Comeau, the team leader of Andover High Math Club, made arrangements for the testing, marking. Refreshments were served after the meet to both students and the teachers. And placed third, with two highest scoring students — Margaret Williams and Pamela Cetlin tied for the junior position.

Estate Planning To Be Speech Topic

Guest speaker at the Church Men's Club meeting Wednesday evening, March 1, will be John R. Cooke, estate planning officer of the Boston Deposit and Trust Company.

A recognized authority in the field, Mr. Cooke has chosen this topic, "Family Security Planning". Along with Mr. Cooke will be shown a question answer period will follow the presentation.

Supper will be served at 7 p.m. and reservations must be made with the various callers to the Club. This promises to be one of the outstanding programs of the season for the Men's Club.

History Month Was Observed

Priscilla Abbot Chapter, N.S.D.A.R., observed American History month at its February meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Roland Weeks.

The meeting was opened at 2 o'clock by the regent, Mrs. Edwin Otto, and devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Ernest Edmands, the chaplain, who read excerpts about Washington and Lincoln, whose birthdays were celebrated this month.

The President General's message for February was read by the vice regent, Mrs. Edwin Thompson; the secretary's report by Mrs. Harry Donovan, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. William Trow.

Mrs. Thompson then introduced the Good Citizen girl to the members, Miss Margaret Williamson, a senior in high school, who had been chosen for this honor by her classmates and teachers, and presented her with a Good Citizen pin. Miss Williamson was chosen also in Junior High School as Good Citizen in 1958, and has made the finals in the National Honor Society.

Mrs. Frank Hayes, ex-regent, read a piece about national defense, stressing the need for more responsibility in government, in helping the leaders as much as possible, and taking active roles as citizens to combat the apathy that seems to be dragging the country's voters down.

Mrs. Otto informed the members that Priscilla Abbot Chapter is in line for the gold honor roll, in fulfilling most of the qualifications necessary.

Mrs. Edwin Lewis, in charge of the Flag, reported that a Girl Scout Troop in West Andover has been promised an American Flag to be given to them sometime in March. Mrs. Thompson spoke about the trips to be given the fifth grade pupils of the public schools, to places of interest in Boston, as has been done in former years.

Mrs. Otto then called for nominations for delegates and alternates to state and National conventions, and the following were nominated: Mrs. Roland Weeks, delegate to the State Convention in March in Boston, and also to the Continental Congress in Washington in April; alternates to the conference in Boston March 14 and 15, Mrs. William Trow, Mrs. Edward Thompson, Mrs. Leo V. O'Connor and Mrs. Ernest C. Edmands.

A social hour followed the meeting with refreshments being served by the hostesses, Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. George Glennie, Mrs. Harry Donovan, and Mrs. Edmands. Mrs. Howard Johnson served at the coffee table.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Reeves, 36 Maple ave., March 7, instead of the 14th as scheduled, at which time Miss Dorothy Kyle will give a tape recording of one of the historical tours taken by the school children. Also a weighing party is to be held, at a penny a pound, at which time the treasury is expected to be augmented substantially.

Sorority Members Plan Bridge Party

The Ways Committee of Alpha Phi Chi Sorority at South Church is sponsoring a bridge party in the Church vestry Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. The affair is open to the public, with reservations available from Mrs. Robert Grange, 15 Shipman rd.

Mrs. Philip Ryder is in charge of table prizes and refreshments. Those who do not play bridge may play other card games of their choice.

O'Connell Estate

Valued At $145,000

The will of John F. O'Connell of Andover, allowed recently in Probate Court, gives his approximate $145,000 estate to two daughters, except for a $1,000 bequest to a sister.

Mr. O'Connell died Dec. 7, 1960. The will, signed Aug. 30, 1949, directed that all his property go in equal shares to his children. They are identified as Mrs. Clare M. Sullivan of Hyannis and Mrs. Mary Carroll Bell of Albuquerque, N.M. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Jane Vashon and Anna M. O'Connell, no address given, were to receive $1,000 each should the estate exceed $10,000, it was stated. A bond indicated Mr. O'Connell left real estate worth about $125,000 and personal property valued at about $20,000.

Mrs. Sullivan was named executrix. Atty. Daniel F. Sullivan of Hyannis, counsel for the estate, indicated to the court that Mary Jane Vashon, mentioned as a legatee if she survived Mr. O'Connell, died in Lawrence in 1953.

Mr. O'Connell left nothing to his widow, Mrs. Edith C. O'Connell, and she assented to the will's allowance.

OFFICIAL CENSUS TALLY RECEIVED

The Selectmen have been officially notified that Andover's population is 15,878 - an increase of 1,343 over 10 years ago.

The state certifies the census count to each municipality, after receiving official figures from the federal government.

March Production By Workshop

Hard at work rehearsing three afternoons a week is the cast of "The Indian Captive", the spring production to be presented by the Children's Theatre Workshop, under the direction of Mrs. John Cole and Mrs. Hugh Morse.

Performances of the play have been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, March 24-25 at George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy.

This play is based on the authentic story of the captivity among Senecas of Eleanor Lytell, who was later the wife of John Kenzie of Chicago. Her friendship with the Indians saved her family in the Great Chicago Massacre. Much of the dialogue is taken from the records of her captivity. Seneca customs have been adhered to throughout the play. Eleanor's Indian name, Ship-under-full-sail, was given her on her adoption for the reason used in the play "because her spirit is strong and swift".

Members of the cast are as follows: Diane Cannon, Thomas Drake, Christine Loebel, Joseph McEneaney, John Wilson, Granville Fisher, Deborah Cole, Lynch

Sabbagh, Nedra Sanfilippo, Michael Wright and Rosemary J. Liffe.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by the following members: Ruth Anderson, Ann Elizabeth Lamb, Linda Rogers, Jennifer Shea, Anne Robertson, Carol Drake and Phoebe Miner.

Many Heard Rev. Scalise

A near-capacity audience heard the Rev. Victor F. Scalise of Lowell speak at the last meeting of the Shawshoeen School P.T.A.

His subject, "Understanding the Heart of a Child", was presented in a warm and moving manner. The Rev. Mr. Scalise commented on a lifetime of experience and filled in with personal anecdotes to explain that children are human beings, blessed with the natural ability to reason and who will respond readily to love and understanding.

Program chairman for the evening was Mrs. Irving Leoff.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Raymond Durham, Mrs. Bruce Gower and fourth grade mothers Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Thomas Neil, Mrs. Charles Towne and Mrs. Stanley Sandarg.

To Honor Track Team

The Andover High Class D track champions will be honored by the Boosters Club and their many fans with a testimonial dinner March 8.

The affair, to which tickets are available, will be held in the cafeteria at the High School at 6:30 p.m. Awards to each team member will be presented at the dinner. Tickets are available from Coach Dick Collins and members of the team.

Twenty top business and industrial executives from four states are back in school studying under a unique "Co-operative Plan of Education" at Northeastern University's Center for Management Development in Massachusetts. Under the Program, which drew national attention when established this past fall, executives spend one week in class and then three weeks on their own jobs, until completion of the six-month course. Initially the executives go to class for two full weeks. Those in the present class include Frank J. Sherman III, 27 Stinson rd., head of Planning and Analyser Division, Boston Edison Company, Boston.

Lake of Greenwood rd., while protesting the changes in zoning, asserted that many residents just don't want to have industrial expansion in Andover. He referred to the residents having ability to pay the taxes that result from living in a residential community. His remarks brought scattered applause from those, who also, apparently don't want industrial growth.

Shawsheen Zoning
At the hearing Monday night, a large crowd gathered to protest the proposed shopping center district on Union st. The zoning has been requested by the Cyr Oil Co., which proposes to move the gasoline station from its present location on Union st. nearer to Kenilworth st.

Atty. Charles G. Hatch represented the firm, and told the meeting that the gasoline station now operated by the petitioner must move because of Route 495 construction. Plans call for location of the unit on the lot popularly known as the Steinert property - one lot removed from the corner of Kenilworth st.

A frontage of some 200 feet is available along Union st., Hatch stated, with this amount being about equal to the present frontage of the gasoline station.

The second parcel of property included in the zoning request belongs to John N. O'Malley, who has accepted a new post in New Britain, Conn. Mr. Hatch said this land retains only about 30 feet of frontage on Union st., with the remainder being non-access along the new highway ramp.

He could give no details of proposed uses of this property, but said Mr. O'Malley had agreed to including it in the re-zoning request.

Mr. Hatch told the Shawsheen residents that it was necessary to re-zone, and that some type of area had to be requested in which a filling station would be permitted. Thus he said, it was decided to petition for a shopping center district, merely because a gasoline station is one of the permitted uses.

He said there are no plans for a shopping center, and that Mr. Cyr may use the existing building on the land for apartments or his own home.

In any event, he said there would be a thick screen of planting between the shopping center area and neighboring residential zones.

Opponents to the measure cited traffic problems, additional noise and odors, and the uncertainty of future activities there as reasons why the zone should not be created.

Several speakers protested the "creeping" zoning, and suggested that this would be only the first step towards extension of the business zone along North Main st. toward Shawsheen Center.

One speaker, Thomas Noyes, said he knows that Mr. Cyr has tried to interest one restaurant operator in using the existing home for that type of business. It was also questioned whether some other types of business might later be introduced into the section, if it is zoned for shopping center usage.

Mr. Hatch said he believes the property will be better used for the proposed purpose than it will for homes, when Route 495 comes through.

William Hardesty called attention to the traffic problem around Kenilworth st. now, and wondered whether this may get worse if a gasoline station or other use of the property is allowed.

Mrs. Margaret Durham emphasized to the Planning Board that zoning "is a very personal thing to those of us living there". In response to her question about changing zones, Chairman Harold O. King explained that the Planning Board must consider changing circumstances, such as new highways, and their effect on the community.

He emphasized that the Board has not sponsored the proposal, but is required by law to hold a hearing then make a report on it.

Atty. Hatch also explained that the Planning Board has a duty to propose changes in zoning when conditions change.

In another portion of the hearing Monday, garden apartments were discussed, as proposed for the Golden Farm on North Main st.

Atty. Joseph Bacigalupo represented the owners, who wish to erect 12 apartment units on the property. He indicated that the buildings will be of colonial design, and said that water and sewage facilities have been stated to be adequate by the town.

Mr. Bacigalupo noted that the apartments appear to be a proper use of the land, and noted that the land can not be permitted to remain idle forever.

He said adequate measures will be taken to drain the area, and that extensive use of fill may be required. In response to one query, he said the owners wouldn't contemplate spending over $500,000 if they were in the least bit uncertain that the water problem could be taken care of properly.

Candidates Meet Next Wednesday

Candidates for the only two contested offices will meet for the final time Wednesday evening, March 1, at 8 p.m. at Central Elementary Auditorium to state their views briefly to the public and to answer questions.

The League of Women Voters, which sponsor the meeting, will ask the candidates for the office of Selectman: "Why do you feel you will be qualified to handle the problems of Andover as a Selectman during the next three years?" The candidates for office of School Committeeman will be asked: "How do you feel changes in the curriculum can best evolve? In the Elementary Schools? In the Junior High? and in the Senior High?"

In addition to sponsoring open meetings for candidates in the four sections of town during the month preceding election, the League of Women Voters will distribute candidates information sheets to every house in town during the week before election. The League asked the candidates to answer questions mailed to them, and printed the answers as they were received from all candidates with no editing. The League suggests all voters read this information and avail themselves of all opportunities to question the candidates so the vote March 6 can be an informed one.

On election day, members of the League will be at the polls checking those who vote and, beginning in the middle of the afternoon, will call the homes of those who have not voted to remind them of election day. The calls will be to get out the vote, not to urge the cause of any particular candidate.
